RUCSACS & CAMPING

Spring/Summer 2013

Since 1946 Karrimor have been a leading figure in the outdoor industry. At home in the United Kingdom, throughout Europe and the rest of the World, Karrimor have pioneered new technologies and been at the forefront of design and innovation.

Karrimor understand the importance of having the correct equipment and how reliable this needs to be. Since the 1950's Karrimor have been supporting the best explorers and climbers in the World with Don Whillans, Dougal Haston and Chris Bonington all using Karrimor.

Today this is continued with climber Bonita Norris and serial adventurer James Cracknell using Karrimor in some of the World's harshest and most testing environments.

Bonita Norris has used Karrimor to help her Summit Ama Dablam, Lhotse and in 2009 became the youngest British women to summit Everest.

At only 24 years of age Bonita is one of climbing's most exciting talents.

Serial sportsman and adventurer James Cracknell has been using Karrimor throughout his hit Discovery Channel show 'World's Toughest Expeditions'. Using Karrimor as he travels in the footsteps of some of the worlds greatest explorers James has used Karrimor to conquer the rapids of the Zambezi, the jungles of the Amazon, the harsh desert environments of the American gold rush as well as the shark infested waters of the South Pacific.

Tested to the extremes, Karrimor has proven time and again to be the brand you can trust and depend on.

A man with short brown hair, wearing a light-colored short-sleeved button-down shirt with multiple pockets, dark cargo pants, and tan hiking boots, stands on a grassy hill. He is holding a small axe in his right hand. To his right is a pile of driftwood and a mound of dark brown peat. In the background, a rocky coastline meets the sea under a cloudy sky. A large, bold, white sans-serif word is overlaid on the right side of the image.

SLEEPING

Adventure in the outdoors can be fun yet exhausting. Karrimor's sleeping accessories provide warmth and comfort after a long adventure.

Karrimor sleeping bags have been redesigned to feature internal drawcord routing, ergonomic baffles and efficient insulation to ensure a comfortable sleep.

Back by popular demand, Karrimat closed cell foam mats have been redeveloped. When Karrimor introduced the Karrimat in 1966, it was Europe's first closed cell foam sleeping mat. Since then, the name Karrimat has become the synonym for nearly every kind of sleeping mat available.
