

ICEBREAKER SPRING/SUMMER 2013

THE ICEBREAKER STORY

Created by nature in the extreme climate of New Zealand's rugged Southern Alps, Icebreaker merino is ideal for summer because it breathes to prevent overheating, resists odour, is exceptionally lightweight, feels silky soft against the skin and protects against the sun's harmful rays.

Launched in 1994, Icebreaker was the first company in the world to develop a merino wool layering system for the outdoors. Icebreaker merino for the outdoors, run/fitness and travel is now sold in more than 3,000 stores in 43 countries.

GET SHORTY

Icebreaker is from the bottom of the world – and now we're making bottoms a priority. New shorts, pants and leggings complete our top-to-toe layering system.

- > First-ever woven shorts, made from 70% merino with 30% organic cotton for extra durability, strength and shape
- > Two styles each for men and women for the outdoors, travel and the city
- > Women's Villa Crop Pants are the ideal airplane pants; team the Villa Crop Leggings with a dress, skirt or tunic
- > Men's Escape pants feature roomy front pockets and a relaxed fit – ideal for the next adventure

BOLD AND BRIGHT

Brilliantly intense colours and a strong collection of fun, active graphics from guest artists capture the heat and intensity of summer in the outdoors.

- > Confident colour palette teams strong brights with pastel shades
- > Three guest artists for Spring/Summer 2013: Penny Stotter, Adam Haynes and Ed Hepp
- > Graphics celebrate the natural world and bring contrasting ideas together in playful ways
